

Project Summary

Whangarei Hospital Maternity Expansion

New Zealand

The Te Kotuku Redevelopment Project will replace the Paediatric Inpatient Ward and Special Care Baby Unit (SCBU) at Whangarei Hospital and create a healthcare hub for women and children. The works will be done without disrupting the existing maternity unit, and a new Medical Laboratory will also be provided.

The project will complete the fit-out and expansion of the hospital and include a new vertical circulation core at the east end and an additional lift and stair core at the western end of the building. The project is expected to complete in January 2024 with a focus on operational continuity and safety throughout the construction process.
